

Below is the breakdown of department courses that satisfy area requirements for the major. These do not conform precisely to the fields we have in the department largely because we do not have requirements in the fields of Women and Politics or Methods.

The remaining upper level political science courses count toward the area requirements as follows:

Theoretical Approaches to Politics		American Institutions and Politics		Foreign and International Politics
316	Politics, Literature, and the Arts	301	Political Campaigning	309*	The Politics of Puerto Rican Development*
365	Gender and Political Theory	302	American Party Politics	310	UK Politics
370	Topics in Political Theory	303	Elections and Participation	311	European Politics
371	Western Tradition: Plato to Machiavelli	304	Congressional Politics	312	Change in Latin America
372	Western Tradition: Hobbes to Mill	305	Public Policy Formation	313	Comparative Political Development of the Far East
373	Legal Philosophy, Rights, and Justice	306	American Presidency	314	Sub-Sahara African Policies
374	Democratic Political Philosophy	307	Survey Research	315	Politics and Culture
375	American Political Thought to 1865	308	New Jersey Politics	317	Globalization and the Non-Western World
376	American Political Theory	326*	American Politics: Executive and Legislative Decision Making*	318	Comparative Public Policy
377	Marx and Marxist Thought from 1865	329	Latino Politics in the United States*	319	Issues of American Foreign Policy
378*	Theories of the Labor Movement*	330	Interest Groups	320	Politics and Social Policy: Lessons from Europe
380*	Russian and Central European Political Thought*	331	Urban Politics	321	Theories of World Politics
388*	Ideologies of the Right*	332	Money and Modern America	322	Strategy in International Relations
390*	Choice and Strategy in Politics*	333	Race, Ethnicity and Politics	323	Defense Policy
423	Contemporary Feminist Theory	334	Politics of Black America	324	Causes of War
471*	Machiavelli and the Renaissance*	335	Women and American Politics	327	International Political Economy
472	Religion and Politics	336	American Political Movements*	328	Caribbean Politics and Development
473	Critics of Modernity	337	American Political Economy*	350	Environmental Politics – United States and International

477	Critical Theory and Society	338	Government and Business	351	Contemporary Politics of the Middle East
		340	Law and Society	352	Israeli Politics
		341	Public Administration: American Bureaucracy	353	Government and Politics of Southeast Asia
		342*	Public Administration: Policymaking*	354	East Asia in World Affairs
		344	Public Opinion	356*	Mexican Politics*
		345	Mass Media and U.S. Democracy	357	Comparative Political Economy
		346	Political Socialization*	359	Women & Politics in the Middle East
		348	Psychology and Politics	361	International Organizations
		349	Topics in American Politics	362	International Law
		355	Women and Public Policy	363	Conflict Resolution in World Politics
		398	Washington Summer Internship and Research	364	Global Order
		401	American Constitutional Law I	365	Gender and Politics in Comparative Perspective
		402*	American Constitutional Law II*	366*	Formulation of American Foreign Policy*
		404	Politics of Criminal Justice	368*	Comparative Political Institutions*
		406	Civil Liberties and Civil Rights	369	Topics in World Politics
		409	Courts and Public Policy	381	Politics of Russia and Eastern Europe
		410	Advanced Studies in Law I	382	Foreign Policy of Russia and the East European States
		411	Advanced Studies in Law II	383*	Politics of Post-Communist Economic Reforms*
		412	Advanced Studies in Law III	384	Jewish Politics, Jewish Power
		426	Gender, Public Policy, and Law	385	Arab Politics and Society
		428	The Practice of Politics	386	Political Change in China

		429	Processes of Politics	387	Politics and Culture in Greece and the Balkans
		437*	Politics of American Capitalism*	389	Topics in Comparative Politics
		438*	Labor and American Politics*	418*	Democracy and Markets in Latin America*
		440	Advanced Studies in American Politics*	419*	Research Seminar on Causes of War*
		442	Political Leadership*	424	Gender and Political Economy*
		494	Washington Research	426	Gender Public Policy and the Law
				450*	Advanced Studies in Comparative Politics*
				451*	Critical Perspectives on the Middle East*
				453*	Comparative Political Anthropology*
				454	Political Development of Asia
				455	Culture and Revolution in the Middle East
				457	Islamic Law and Jurisprudence

Four political science courses count toward the major but do not count toward any area requirements. These courses DO satisfy Core Curriculum requirements. These are as follows:

300 Political Science Research Method. Satisfies QQ Quantitative Reasoning

379 Concepts of Liberty and Equality: Writing with Revision in Political Science. Satisfies WCr Writing with Revision

391 Data Science for Political Science. Satisfies QQ Quantitative Reasoning

395 Political Science Seminar. Satisfies WCd Writing in the Discipline

Several courses count only as electives, including 250-254 (each of 1.5 credits), 292 (Introduction to Critical Intelligence Studies), 481/482 and 488 (internships), and 400 (service learning, one credit)

* Course not currently being offered.